

Who is CFCPA?

CFCPA represents Region 5 of the Florida Crime Prevention Association. Each month, representatives from the business and law enforcement communities meet to discuss and share crime trends, new crime prevention strategies, upcoming seminars and training classes, and new and exciting ways to help reduce crime, and the fear of crime, in our neighborhoods.

Membership is available to any law enforcement or the private sector security team that is involved in crime prevention or crime prevention related business.

CFCPA members meet monthly. Check our website at www.cfcpa.org for the latest calendar and location.

Protecting Central Florida Citizens

The CFCPA brings together representatives from both law enforcement and private businesses to share knowledge and resources for the prevention of crime in our communities. CFCPA resources are often used to teach community representatives about proactive safety programs.

Our members facilitate the sharing of ideas and community service programs that address crime prevention. This model is cost effective as it reduces the time and expense necessary to develop and test local programs. If you want to know what is working in our community, please join the CFCPA.

Business member representatives are typically associated with a security role in their firms. Sharing knowledge on safety and best security practices benefits both law enforcement and businesses. Note that the CFCPA does not endorse the products and/or services of its private sector members.

Meeting Monthly

Our members alternate meeting locations among the various agencies in Central Florida. Meetings consist of opportunities to discuss agency programs and their effectiveness. Many of our members share their program materials. Time is allotted for discussion on crime trends and strategies to improve protecting our citizens.

Benefits to our Members

Membership is only $100 per year for an agency. Individual memberships are accommodated with Board Approval. Shared resources and information keep this membership cost effective. Contact: william.stone@ucf.edu

Many of our members find that the established network of crime prevention experts becomes a valuable resource when unexpected crime trends occur.

Access to training and training materials for both officers and citizens assist in preparing our community for the challenges ahead.

Join us at one of our meetings to see how we can help each other.

Who are our members?

CFCPA serves Volusia, Lake, Seminole, Osceola, and Orange counties of Central Florida. County Sheriff and local city crime prevention officers are regular attendees of our monthly meetings. Local business loss prevention teams as well as State and County resources for crime prevention also participate.

Why you should consider becoming a member?

During times of reduced budgets, increasing crime and more complex crimes involving technology, sharing is a productive way to gain knowledge and resources. Join us in making our neighborhoods safer and making Central Florida one of the best places to live.

Contact any one of our Officers or Members to find out how to become a member today.
